

Izotene Fidel-Anyanna

 Dublin

izotene.fidel-anyanna@brownejacobson.com

+35315743923

Izotene is a qualified lawyer and has previously practiced in Nigeria. Izotene now works in our Dublin office and is retraining as an Irish solicitor. Izotene specialises in advising clients in the tech sector on how to navigate their regulatory environment, particularly in respect to data privacy.

He also advises multinational brands on their intellectual property issues ranging from trademarks to copyright assignment, licensing, and other forms of IP commercialisation. He is passionate about Diversity, inclusion, and sustainability.

Izotene is an experienced legal professional hailing from a Commonwealth jurisdiction. He has spent years helping businesses navigate their regulatory hurdles in data privacy, as well as managing day-to-day operations of trademark portfolios for esteemed international brands. He is routinely involved in facilitating client trainings across his area of expertise.

Beyond practicing, Izotene was recognised for his work with DORAS Ireland and awarded Gold in the University of Limerick's President Volunteer Award 2023. Izotene is a member of International Trademarks Association (INTA) and is a frequent contributor to World Trademark Review daily.

Expertise

Competition and anti-trust

Copyright and related rights

Data protection and privacy

Trade marks

Trade secrets and confidential information