

Concluding remarks on Power Purchase Agreements: The journey ahead and how we can help

06 March 2025  Conor Macaire Duncan and Zoe Stollard

In conclusion, PPAs represent a sophisticated and strategic approach to energy procurement, crucial for advancing renewable energy initiatives and achieving sustainability goals and effective company stewardship.

As the landscape of PPAs continues to evolve, understanding the contractual intricacies of various PPA structures, be it Direct, Sleeved, or Virtual, is essential for any entity engaged in energy procurement and management.

At Browne Jacobson, our dedicated Energy and Infrastructure team is well-equipped to navigate the complexities of PPAs. We offer expert guidance through every stage of PPA arrangements, from initial drafting and negotiation to ongoing compliance and management, including ensuring that the key contract provisions we dealt with above are clear, unambiguous, and fair and reasonable between all parties involved.

Ultimately, our team ensures that each PPA is tailored to meet the specific needs and objectives of our clients, providing a stable, cost-effective, and lasting sustainable energy solution.

Our legal expertise and deep industry knowledge enable us to provide comprehensive support to you whether you are looking to secure a new PPA, manage existing agreements, or explore innovative energy solutions, our team is here to assist. Let us assist you harnessing the power of PPAs to propel your business towards a greener, more sustainable future.
