

AI at the coalface: Navigating the practicalities in education

📅 22 July 2025

Artificial intelligence is no longer a futuristic concept; it's a present-day reality rapidly integrating into every sector. But what does its adoption really look like on the ground? And what are the hidden challenges and surprising wins that leaders are discovering?

Join us for this webinar as we bring together leading voices from the sector who are actively implementing AI and shaping its governance within complex environments. This webinar offers a unique opportunity for cross-sector learning.

While our panellists share their experiences from the education sector, their insights into the practicalities of AI adoption, stakeholder demands, ethical dilemmas, and strategic next steps are universally applicable.

Panel discussion with special guests

Legal Director, data protection and AI governance expert Claire Archibald will chair this panel discussion featuring:

- Lauren Thorpe, Chief Transformation Officer, United Learning
- James Browning, Chief Operating Officer, Lift Schools
- Graham Feeke, Deputy Chief Executive, Greenwood Academies Trust

By attending this session, you'll gain:

- A candid view: Hear direct experiences of how AI is being deployed, what's working, and what's proving to be a genuine headache.
- Forewarning on future challenges: Learn from the surprises and disappointments of those already navigating AI.
- Practical governance strategies: The real-world worries and how leaders are proactively addressing them.
- Actionable insights for your organisation: Immediate next steps for developing your own AI strategy, policy, and training, applicable whether you're in education, business, or the public sector.
