

Browne Jacobson wins hattrick of awards at East Midlands Rainmakers Awards

22 November 2024

UK & Ireland law firm Browne Jacobson has won a hattrick of awards at the inaugural East Midlands Rainmakers Awards, which underlines the firm's credentials as a leading force in the region.

The firm scooped Legal Team of the Year, Private Equity Exit of the Year for its role advising YFM Equity Partners on its exit from database managed services provider DSP and sale to LDC, and Deal of the Year (£10m-£50m) for advising LDC on its investment into Integrated Doorset Solutions.

The East Midlands Rainmaker Awards celebrate the best deals and teams in the past year, as voted for by the corporate finance community in a one firm, one vote system.

The Awards follow a year of continued successes for the firm's expanding corporate team, including key partner appointments across UK & Ireland which have driven momentum in the firm advising on larger, more complex strategic transactions in addition to cross-border deals. The team was shortlisted for 12 deals, and corporate partners Nigel Blackwell and Matt Bolton were shortlisted for Rainmaker of the Year and Rising Star of the Year.

This year has also seen a series of significant international transactions for the firm's corporate team, including global digital transformation services provider Blueprintx's acquisition of US-based e-commerce consultancy ITG Commerce, and IT and cyber services provider Littlefish's acquisition of technology consultancy Storm Technology based in Ireland.

Richard Cox, Partner at Browne Jacobson and head of the firm's national corporate team, said: "Our achievements tonight cap a transformative year delivered by our dedicated corporate and private equity teams. Through welcoming exceptional talent to fuel substantial growth, strengthening our directory rankings, and expanding our cross-border advisory work, we've strategically enhanced our market position. It's great that this is recognised in the local community and we are very proud of our roots and the key role we play in the East Midlands dealmaking community."

Key contact

Henrietta Scott

Head of Marketing

PRTeam@brownejacobson.com

+44 (0)330 045 2299

