Tracy is an associate in the commercial dispute resolution team at Browne Jacobson's London office. She acts for corporates and high-net worth individuals in complex (and often multi-jurisdictional) disputes.

Tracy has experience with matters involving the High Court, Commercial Court, Court of Appeal, and international arbitrations under the LCIA, ICC, UNCITRAL and ICSID rules.

Tracy has been instructed at all stages of a dispute; including pre-action, in proceedings and settlement. Tracy has particular experience defending jurisdiction challenges and obtaining/defending interim applications such as urgent injunctive relief and freezing orders.

Tracy's international arbitration experience includes representing an oil major in a dispute arising from oil production contracts in Congo and a gaming operator in a potential investment treaty arbitration. She also acts for mining clients in complex international disputes, including pursuant to international investment treaties and domestic investment laws.

Tracy is a member of the LCIA's Young International Arbitration Group (YIAG).

Prior to commencing her training contract at a City law firm, Tracy worked as a Paralegal in the Disputes & Investigations team at Slaughter and May.
