

Kate Gallagher

Partner

 Nottingham

kate.gallagher@brownejacobson.com

+44 (0)330 045 1314

Kate is the head of the Higher Education team, having been General Counsel at the University of Nottingham for 18 years, where she established and led a full-service in-house legal team.

She has significant experience as a senior leader in Higher Education and in advising on the wide range of legal, regulatory and governance issues arising in the Higher Education sphere. She is an experienced employment, public and regulatory lawyer and has a special interest in free speech, whistleblowing and social media in the workplace, including policy writing and development.

Kate also has extensive experience in complex staff and student dispute and advisory work, in dealing with cross-border legal issues and matters connected to reputation management and incident response.

Related expertise

Education law

Employment

Student matters in higher education