Helen is a Professional Development Lawyer in our corporate team with experience advising on a wide range of corporate finance transactions. Helen's main area of expertise is company reorganisations, corporate governance arrangements and technical corporate law advice.

Having trained at Browne Jacobson, Helen has over 10 years' experience advising on corporate matters for a variety of clients including large corporates, private companies, owner managed businesses and alternative corporate structures. Helen now primarily focusses on leading our advice on complex group reorganisations (including demergers, capital reductions, capital reduction demergers, intra-group business and asset transfers, dividends and reorganisations of share capital). Helen also enjoys advising clients on corporate governance issues, succession planning, shareholder agreements, bespoke articles of association and supporting directors in understanding their duties.
